

Local Data Briefing:

Teen Dating Violence Realities in Washington County

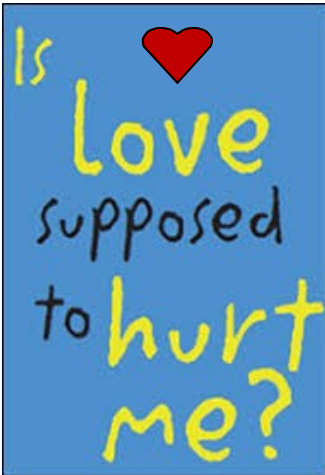

Wednesday, February 14, 2018 from 8:30-10:00 AM

Thundermist Health Center of South County

Community Room

1 River St. - Wakefield

with

Lucy Rios, RI Coalition Against Domestic Violence
- Director of Prevention & Communication

has been a leader in the movement to end domestic violence for the last 15 years. Her outreach & trainings in diverse communities ensures that criminal justice personnel, service providers, and advocates understand the dynamics of domestic violence & are able to create pathways to prevention. Rios mobilizes bystanders through public awareness campaigns & primary prevention strategies. She represents the RICADV on many statewide networks, including the School Health & Wellness Committee of the RI Dept. of Education & the Cross Campus Collaborative for Sexual Violence Prevention.

The data presentation will be followed by a panel discussion facilitated by Scott Mueller, Asst. Professor, Rhode Island College, School of Social Work with

Mary Roda, Executive Director, Domestic Violence Resource Center of South County;
Kirsten Maar, Community Outreach Advocate, Galilee Mission & Legal Advocate;
Kayla Thibodeaux, Faith Alliance Coordinator Job Corps & Legal Advocate; and Joanne Waite, LMFT, Clinical Manager, Day One

Join us for a thoughtful presentation and provocative discussion 10 years after the passage of the Lindsay Ann Burke Act in RI

Kindly RSVP to Donna Greene at 788-2371 or dgreene@southcountyhealth.org by February 12, 2018
